About the illustrations

PLEASE READ

Every interface illustration in these guides is a rendered mockup, not a screenshot. The Odibrick codebase has not yet been compiled or deployed, so no running instance exists to photograph. The mockups are drawn from the actual source — the colours, typefaces, component shapes and screen structures come from `apps/web/tailwind.config.ts` and the real page components — so they are an accurate guide to what you will see, but they are drawings.

Once the platform is running, replace them with real screen captures.

What every guide assumes

- Odibrick is not a listings board. It stays involved through verification, legal review, the agreement, payment and the condition record.
- A verification seal exists only where a person has actually checked that item. A missing seal means the check was not done, not that something is wrong.
- Odibrick does not hold your money, does not issue insurance, and does not decide disputes. It records what happened, accurately, at the time it happened.
- Listing is free and unlimited for owners, agents and builders. The platform earns from completed tenancies and from optional marketing packages.

Getting help

From any signed-in account: Account → Support. Quote the reference code of whatever you are asking about, and if you saw an error message, include the trace ID printed at the bottom of it.
